From the desk of the Chief

As a New Year begins, it is always advantageous to look back on the year and reflect on our successes, as well as identify areas that call for improvement. Here are some department highlights:

- were honored by the city and community in an unprecedented 'We Support Our Police Week' proclamation
- won the California Law Enforcement Challenge (CLEC), an annual honor awarded to the agency with the best traffic safety plan
- received Technology in Traffic Safety award for use of modern technology to increase traffic safety
- implemented a Crime Prevention through Environmental Design program (CPTED) whereby specially trained officers walk a property and provide crime prevention recommendations
- hosted the Women Leaders in Law Enforcement Symposium (WLLE) sponsored by the California Police Chiefs Association and attended by over 700 registrants
- trained twenty-two new officers (reserve and lateral) through our Field Training Officer program
- reduced UCR Part 1 property and persons crimes from 2014
- hosted a Motorcycle Rodeo and Traffic Safety Fair; agencies from all over the region and Nevada participated, the community came out to enthusiastically support, and money raised benefitted the Citrus Heights Police Activities League (CHPAL)
- applied and was awarded a grant that provides for a fully grant-funded Level 1 Reserve Police Officer position dedicated to pedestrian and bicycle safety in Citrus Heights
- revoked a number of massage parlor licenses for illegal practices
- hosted four retirements; promoted two sergeants and two lieutenants
- implemented an online crime report follow up for victims of identity theft
- updated patrol car technology allowing for more efficient operations in the field
- continued participation in the regional IMPACT and Cal-METT task forces
- supplied over fifty families (120 adults, 157 children) with food, gifts, toiletries, furniture, clothing, Christmas trees, and more through our annual Holiday Referral Program
- CHPD Dispatcher Jessica Drobish was awarded 2015 Telecommunicator of the Year by the Association of Public-Safety Communications Officials International, Inc. (APCO)
- CHPD Communications 9-1-1 staff won 2015 Team of the Year, awarded by the same organization (APCO) for their role in Community Oriented Policing...

...to name just a few!

Looking ahead in 2016, we will continue to reduce crime, conduct DUI checkpoints and saturation details monthly, closely monitor illegal massage parlors, and actively pursue remedies in response to homelessness in our city. We are enhancing our Domestic Violence Response Team program to provide more resources for involved children, and will increase membership in our Police Explorer program.

As Chief of Police for our community, I am very proud of what we (law enforcement and both the citizens and local businesses of Citrus Heights), accomplished together as a team in 2015. We look forward to another year of positive, effective collaboration with the community we serve and encourage residents to interact with the department through one of our many programs. On behalf of the men and women of the Citrus Heights Police Department, I'd like to wish everyone a healthy, prosperous, and safe new year.

Tips for Driving in the Rain

The rainy season is right around the corner. The Citrus Heights Police Department wants motorist to be prepared to drive during wet conditions. Please read the following driving tips regarding driving in wet weather.

1. Exercise extreme caution after a long dry spell. During a dry period, engine oil and grease build up on the road over time. When mixed with water from a new rainfall, the road becomes extremely slick. Continued rainfall will eventually wash away the oil, but the first few hours can be the most dangerous.

2. Allow for more travel time. You should plan to drive at a slower pace than normal when the roads are wet. Keep in mind that traffic is likely to be moving slower as well. There's also the possibility that your preplanned route may be flooded or jammed. Whatever the case, rushing equals higher risk.

3. Drive slowly and carefully, especially on turns. Steer and brake with a light touch. When you need to stop or slow, do not brake hard or lock the wheels and risk a skid. If you do find yourself in a skid, remain calm, ease your foot off the gas, and carefully steer in the direction you want the front of the car to go.

4. Avoid hydroplaning by keeping your tires inflated correctly. Maintain good tire tread. Don't put off replacing worn tires. Slow down when roads are wet, and stay away from puddles. If you find yourself hydroplaning, do not brake hard or turn suddenly. This could throw your car into a skid. Ease your foot off the gas until the car slows. If you need to brake, do it gently.

5. Turn on your headlights, even when there's a light sprinkle. It helps you see the road, and more importantly, it helps other motorists see you. However, don't blast your high beams in the rain or fog — it'll obscure your view further, as the light will reflect back at you off the water droplets in the air.

6. Watch out for pedestrians. An ordinarily observant pedestrian may become distracted by fiddling with an umbrella or a rain slicker.

Now that you know how to drive in the rain, take some precautionary measures to ensure that your vehicle is prepared to get you through a downpour.

1. Stay on top of your car's condition. Its brakes, tire pressures, tire tread depth and defroster operation should be checked regularly so that you'll be ready to deal with heavy rain when the time comes.

The Rabies Resolution

What is rabies?

Rabies is a rare, fatal infection of the brain. All mammals, including dogs, cats, and horses, can become infected with the rabies virus. In California, rabies occurs most often in wild animals such as bats, skunks, and foxes.

Why is rabies vaccination of companion animals important?

In California, companion animals can be exposed to rabies when they encounter rabid wildlife, such as bats, skunks, or foxes. Vaccination not only protects your animal from disease and death due to rabies, but also provides an important second level of defense for you and your family.

Which companion animals should be vaccinated against rabies?

Dog owners must comply with California legal requirements for vaccination and licensure of all dogs over four months of age. Rabies vaccination is strongly encouraged for cats and horses that are outdoors and have potential contact with wild animals.

When should companion animals receive rabies vaccines?

📌 Dogs: The first rabies vaccine should be given after the dog is three months of age, with a second vaccination 12 months later. Dogs should receive a booster vaccination every three years thereafter.

📌 Cats: The first rabies vaccine should be given at three months of age, with a second vaccination 12 months later. Cats should receive a booster vaccine every year or every three years thereafter, depending on the type of vaccine used.

Domestic dogs transmit 99% of rabies cases to humans through bites, scratches and saliva contact. Rabies is almost always fatal in humans and can cause permanent brain damage or paralysis. There are only three known rabies survivors in the U.S. in the last 10 years. Every year, more than 15 million people worldwide receive a post-bite vaccination to prevent the disease. Children are the most likely to be bitten. By September 2015, California had 132 positive test results. In 2014, California had 200 positive test results – Sacramento had 2 bats, 1 skunk and 1 dog test positive.

Make your New Year's Resolution count, make the RABIES RESOLUTION and resolve to vaccinate your pets for rabies. Even indoor pets need to be vaccinated for rabies –they are still at risk of exposure in your home or backyard by occasional contact with rodents or wildlife animals. Contact your veterinarian for your pet's rabies records. Licenses for spayed or neutered animals are $15.00 annually and unaltered animals are $30.00 annually. Current rabies certificates are required for licensing.

For more information on low-cost rabies vaccination clinics and how to license your pet, contact: Citrus Heights Animal Services, 916-727-7387 (PETS).

Anyone who lives, rents, or owns property or a business in Citrus Heights can get involved! Citrus Heights is divided into 11 Neighborhoods, and each Neighborhood is represented by a Neighborhood Association (Areas 7 & 8 are combined). Visit the City's website www.citrusheights.net and find out more information about how to get involved!

Did you know that the creation of the "Neighborhoods" was voted by the public as one of the Top 10 Accomplishments by the City of Citrus Heights since its incorporation in January 1997? You owe it to yourself and your family to find out why so many think the Neighborhood Associations are a wonderful benefit for residents of Citrus Heights!

The area groups usually meet once a month to solve neighborhood issues such as traffic or crime, to work on various projects, to host City information sessions, to network, have fun and much more.

All of the Neighborhoods are part of REACH (Residents' Empowerment Association of Citrus Heights). REACH is a coalition that consists of a Board of Directors composed of a representative from each neighborhood.
