From the desk of the Chief

Summer is almost here and already people are out and about enjoying the longer days and warm weather. For many, this time of year allows for a slower, more casual lifestyle. Along with that, at the police department, come increased calls for service - as well as for code enforcement – on 'issues' that folks observe while coming and going at a more relaxed pace such as:

- neglected landscape/overgrown lots
- illegal dumping of garbage and debris on private property
- abandoned and/or inoperable vehicles on private property
- setback regulations, fence height
- animal keeping
- major automotive repair in residential zone
- junk, trash, furniture, construction material, etc. visible to the public
- occupied recreational vehicles
- broken fences
- overgrown foliage blocking/impeding sight of driveways, sidewalks, roadways, and/or making corners dangerous
- large commercial vehicles (e.g. semi-trucks) parked in residential neighborhoods
- vacant unmaintained homes
- residential businesses causing traffic/noise problems

residential rental housing complaints (i.e. owners not making repairs or addressing housing issues making the residence unlivable)

These are all concerns about which our Code Enforcement Unit should be informed and there are several ways to do so. You can complete our on-line service request (at www.citrusheights.net – click on the "City Hall On-Line" tab), telephone (916) 725-2845, or send an email to servicerequestnep@citrusheights.net. Please be prepared with specific information such as the address of the property, detailed description of the situation, and the length of time you have observed it to be so. Complaints can be made anonymously; your identity will not be disclosed. Too often we see blight such as graffiti, weeds, etc., and assume someone else has already reported the issue. This is not always the case so please take a moment and use one of the several available reporting methods to inform us of these and other community issues.

Police staff responds to code enforcement complaints according to the seriousness of the violation, and its effect on the community. Situations that appear to pose a serious risk to health and safety are given top priority; others are pursued in the order in which they are received. For all types of code complaints, the first step in the follow-up procedure is to issue a warning letter requesting compliance. If the individual responsible for the situation is not available, or appears unwilling to voluntarily correct the code violation in a timely manner, a notice of violation or a citation may be issued. The city may also take court action if the situation poses a significant risk to the community, or if the individual has ignored previous notices/citations. In all cases, the individual responsible for the code violation is given the opportunity to voluntarily correct the situation and comply with current codes without a penalty. If the correction is not made, then the individual may be subject to fines and other penalties including a certificate of nuisance placed on the property clouding the title. We cannot be everywhere all the time and rely on our citizens to help be our eyes and ears. By working together, we can ensure that our city remains a safe and welcoming place in which to live, work, and play.

CITRUS HEIGHTS LITTLE LIBRARY "FAMILY TIME"

Last week I was leaving work in the later evening after a very busy 12 hour day. As I was driving out of the police department parking lot, I could not help but notice a family gathered around the little library where community members donate and recycle books. To my delight, this family caught my attention and I felt compelled to turn around to take a photo. It was probably one of the best family moments I have seen in quite a long time. As I spoke to them, they humbly agreed to have their photo taken for our City REACH Out Newsletter. This was a perfect family moment in my eyes, as they all sat quietly studying and looking for that perfect new book to enjoy. With today's computer age, this photo reminded me of the times we held a book that moved our minds to a different place, clearing the stress from our day.

This was such a great reminder for all community members to share and donate books to these little libraries, as they do make a different to someone every day. And in the eyes of a child, brings great adventures into their imagination!

MAY-MICROCHIP YOUR PET MONTH-Why should we microchip our pets?

According to a 2009 study by the American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA) of more than 7,700 stray animals at shelters showed that dogs without microchips were returned to their owners 21.9% of the time, whereas microchipped dogs were returned to their owners 52.2% of the time. Cats without microchips were reunited with their owners only 1.8% of the time, while microchipped cats went back home 38.5% of the time. Microchipped animals that weren't returned to their owners was usually due to incorrect or absent owner information in the microchip registry database – so don't forget to register and keep your information updated. Free microchip registries such as www.petmicrochiplookup.org and www.foundanimals.org make it easy to keep your information updated.

JUNE-NATIONAL ADOPT A SHELTER CAT MONTH

Both the ASPCA and the American Humane Society have declared June as Adopt-A-Cat month. June is when kitten season is in full swing! Shelters will be full, typically stretched to the limit! Many local shelters and rescues will be hosting adoption specials! Adopt a cat or kitten today!

JUNE 24, 2016—NATIONAL TAKE YOUR DOG TO WORK DAY!

In it's eighteenth year, Pet Sitters International's—Take Your Dog to Work Day has gained in popularity and is celebrated nationwide! For those fortunate enough to participate in the TYDTWD, please observe the following tips from PSI:

- Make sure your pet is current on its vaccinations and licensing. It's the law.
- Be sure to bring a leash or crate; Use a baby gate to prevent dogs from leaving the cubicle or office.
- Puppy proof your work space! Plants, cords and small or toxic items should be out of your dog's reach.
- Make a good impression with good manners and good grooming! Dog musk can be unattractive; make sure your dog is bathed or groomed before the day! A dog with good manners should understand basic commands: Sit, Stay, Down, Leave It. An aggressive, defensive or shy animal is best left at home.
- Dog lovers will make themselves known. However, there are also some people who are allergic or afraid of dogs. Do not force co-workers to interact with your dog!
- Specific areas such as kitchens, break rooms or bathrooms can be designated off limits.

- Prepare a 'doggie bag': bring food, treats, bowls, toys, pet waste bags or pee pads, and cleaning supplies (paper towels, wet wipes, and disinfectant or pet stain remover). Pet bedding from home may make them more comfortable. Remind co-workers human food like grapes or chocolate are toxic to dogs.
- Have a back up plan to take your dog home if necessary! Some dogs aren't ready for it or get too excited with other dogs around. Never leave a pet alone in a vehicle while you work! (or EVER)
- There Is No Poop Fairy! Make sure your pet gets regular potty breaks and PLEASE, clean up the mess!
- Give the day a purpose with proceeds benefitting your favorite animal charities or shelter. Have some fun and fundraise! Become a donation drop-off location for a rescue or shelter! Sell raffle tickets for pet products or services! Create and sell homemade crafts: pet beds, blankets, baskets, homemade dog biscuits & jerkies are a great gift for the dog owner!
